Conflicting Testimony in the Kovalyev Case—Shad Brady Breaks Silence—Shooting in San Francisco—Carson Swindle.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—(Special Dispatch.) When the Los Angeles telegram, saying that Miss Cunningham had told Mrs. Moore that she had confessed, was shown to Durrant this evening at the County Jail, he characterized it as nonsense. He said: "Miss Cunningham was never in my cell alone. She had been bothering me for weeks to allow her to come in and have tea with me. I did not want her to do it, and I told her so. As she had informed me that she lived on milk alone, I did not understand her desire for a tea party. One day she was admitted to my cell, but the chief jailer was with her. That was the only time she was in my cell. Our conversation was of the most commonplace character. It was upon this occasion that she asked to shake hands with me, and gave me her good wishes for the coming trial." Chief Jailer Sattler said: "Miss Cunningham bothered the Sheriff for a permit to see Cunningham in his cell. Finally, one day, I went with her into the cell, and remained as long as she did. No conversation occurred but what I heard. This story is absurd."

An attempt was made to see Miss Cunningham, but she could not be found. The general opinion here is that she worried so much over the case, and tried so hard to get a story from Durrant that she became subject to delusions, and that this confession by Durrant was simply a hallucination.

WANTS A NEW TRIAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The attorneys for Theodore Durrant have prepared an affidavit of their client to be read in support of the motion for a new trial on Friday, November 23. Two of the principal points on which a new trial will be asked are the rulings of Judge Murphy as to Juror Brown, who was peremptorily challenged by the prosecution after he had been accepted and sworn, and the refusal to grant a change of venue. The newspapers will be attacked in the affidavit for alleged persecution of the prisoner, while the defendant's counsel will lead to a prejudice against Durrant.

Congressman Maguire Making an Effort for a National Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—Congressman Maguire will make an effort to have a national law passed prohibiting the sale or manufacture of impure wines. The matter has been taken up by the Grapes-growers and Wine-makers' Association, and work is going forward for the preparation of a bill that will cover the case. France, Spain and Italy have laws upon this matter of adulteration of wine. Ohio is the only State in the Union which places this safeguard on wines imported within its borders. The secretary of the association is now securing copies of the laws of this country and as soon as they arrive a bill will be prepared, based on the best provisions of both countries.

Andrea Sbarbaro, the representative of one of the large wine-growing districts, and a prominent member in the association, is the prime mover in the matter. "I had a long talk with Congressman Maguire," said Sbarbaro, "and he is fully in accord with the objects of the association. He has promised to introduce the bill, which will probably be made a part of the United States revenue laws. It is a matter that has been agitated for some time."

Brady Breaks Silence and Pleases the Prosecuting Attorney.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
MARYSVILLE, Nov. 14.—Attorney Hitchcock of Red River bluff consumed the entire day in arguing the Brady case for the people. Brady looked and fro in a chair and heard himself denounced again and again as the murderer of John J. Bogard, the late sheriff of Yuba county. The constant swirling of the chair was the only perceptible sign of nervousness in the man whose life, all agree, hangs in the balance. Once, this morning, Brady forgot himself and made answer to a question being asked by Attorney Hitchcock. He replied in a low voice, "You remember, gentlemen of the jury, that when I entered the jail the defendant told me: 'Jim, you are a rascal, you are a brother, didn't you?' It was then that Brady lost control of his self-possession and blurted out the interjection, 'I don't deny it.'"

This move on Brady's part seemed to please the attorney for the people. It was the first time the jurors had heard the prisoner's voice, and evidently in hopes of getting more replies from Brady, Hitchcock plied question after question to him and no doubt would have succeeded in his purpose had not attorneys Carlin and Forbes whispered to their client to hold his tongue. Attorney Forbes will occupy the most of tomorrow.

The New General Manager Attacks the Southern Pacific Payroll.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The Examiner says Julius Kruttschnitt, general manager of the Southern Pacific, is ambitious to make a record for economy. Since his appointment Kruttschnitt has been quietly but persistently examining the payroll to see where he could make discharges. He has an idea that the company has too many section hands or trackmen on the lines west of El Paso, so on the first of next month, some seventy-five or eighty of them will be discharged. The general manager also thinks there are a number of stations where two men are now employed that can get along with one. Discharges are also expected at the shops at Sacramento, Ogden and Tucson.

It is estimated that on December 1 next the names of fully 75 hundred employees will be stricken from the payroll of the Southern Pacific Company. No pruning can be done among the New Mexico and Arizona section men, because of a lot of track-repairs and improvements now in progress in those two territories.

INDIGNANT MOTHERS.

Will Rise En Masse in Defense of Their Children.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The unspeakable crimes which have been committed upon children of this city, and of which Capt. Peter F. Lane and his associates are accused, have aroused the women of San Francisco to a pitch of indignation almost without parallel.

While the fathers and friends of the girls are threatening acts of summary vengeance, women and mothers in every part of the city are organizing to insure swift and uncorrupted prosecution of the accused men. The mothers are determined to make a general and effective crusade against a vice, the alarming prevalence and disgusting horror of which has been revealed in the recent case.

A dozen organized bodies of women are interested in the terrible affair. The churches have been appealed to and have promised to respond. The Civic Federation and its good offices have been enlisted. Meetings are being held and the representatives of many societies will meet tomorrow at the headquarters of the W. C. T. U. to prepare for a mass-meeting of indignation to show by their presence that they will tolerate no juggling in a matter of such vital interest to them and to their homes.

There have been instances of such absolute depravity as that with which Lane, Myers and Ratz are accused. All of them are rich, and all are but half-blind and deaf, miserably clad and ill-looking to the last degree.

Myers has had money profligately, and Ratz is repulsive in looks and manner. The fear that the parents of the children, hearing money and caring little how they obtain it, might be bribed to make a prosecution ineffective, has caused a storm among the women which may lead to a shaking-up of the city not seen in years.

The women who are leading the movement for punishment and reform are appalled at the gravity of a situation they did not believe could exist in San Francisco. They have reason to suspect that Lane and his associates are not only persons of bad character, but that their desire to stamp out at once an evil which strikes at every home and touches every mother in the city.

The police declare that the offense which has created so much excitement is the worst which ever came under their observation in San Francisco. The mother of the child who was killed Sunday will demand that the police exercise greater vigilance in stamping out an evil which already has morally destroyed thirty girls, while they are more than children in years, are yet hardened criminals in an experience of the worst knowledge of which has shocked and outraged the community.

The Rev. E. R. Dille is one of the most earnest supporters of the women in the movement. He is the pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal Church, in which the mass-meeting will be held on Sunday. He declares that he has no belief in the stories of the unexplained depravity revealed by the arrest of Lane and his associates, and that he will do all in his power to see that justice is done.

Lynching was freely talked of among the residents of Telegraph Hill, and it was said that the women who were charged with the most heinous of crimes. Men were not backward in giving expressions of their feelings, and they did it in a most forcible manner.

THE KOVALEV TRIAL.

Arnold Levin Contradicts the Testimony of Jost.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 14.—In the Kovalyev murder trial today Arnold Levin, one of the principal witnesses for the prosecution, was recalled by the defense. He denied that he was connected with the Russian secret police and also denied that he had ever made any keys for Kovalyev. Levin was asked to describe the clothes worn by Kovalyev when they were in Sacramento. He replied that Kovalyev wore a soft black hat with a brim, and that he did not wear an overcoat or a long coat.

Senator Hart, a lawyer for the defense, smiled. This testimony contradicted that of George H. Jost, who had testified that when he saw Kovalyev in front of the Weber gate on the night of the murder, Kovalyev wore a long, striped overcoat and what appeared to be a glazed cap. The witness denied, however, that he was testifying against Kovalyev because he feared that he might also be accused of murder.

The Williams & England Banking Company of Salem Suspends.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SALEM (Or.), Nov. 14.—Williams & England Banking Company closed doors this morning, with the following notice posted:

"Having reason to expect an unusual demand for depositors, and in order to treat all creditors fairly and equitably, this bank is closed for the present. It is my opinion that all depositors will be paid in full."

(Signed) "P. M. P. Cashier." The bank was the depository of the City Treasurer, also of the State Insurance Company, the Youngs Investment Company, and, it is said, Wells, Fargo & Co. had some money on deposit. A definite statement is now obtainable, but the belief is that all claims will be liquidated.

A Shooting in Seaman's Gulch.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

REDDING, Nov. 14.—Word was received this morning that a man named Harvey Joyce had been shot and fatally wounded in Seaman's Gulch, about fifteen miles from Redding, by Charles Delahmidt. No report regarding the tragedy is meager, but the shooting was the result of a dispute over a mining claim. Delahmidt shot Joyce, who fell into the water, whereupon the slayer pulled him out and laid him on the ground and immediately went to a sheep camp near by and gave the information of the shooting. The coroner and sheriff have gone to the scene.

The Howell Case.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The case of M. D. Howell, charged with complicity with the North Beach gang of counterfeiters, was today continued until next Monday in order to give the defense an opportunity to summon additional witnesses.

A San Jose Bigamy Trial.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN JOSE, Nov. 14.—This afternoon the trial of A. M. L. Defferer for bigamy was begun. On July 20, 1893, he married Constanza A. E. MacDonald at North Temescal, Father Serda performing the ceremony. Katie Patton of Santa Cruz has a contract which shows that A. M. Lorenzo married her on October 30, 1893. The contract was acknowledged on December 14, 1894. Both wives and their mothers were in court today and are on very friendly terms. The evidence introduced is considered very incriminating. The trial will last three days.

The Carson Mint Swindle.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CARSON (Nev.), Nov. 14.—The trial of James Henry is dragging along slowly. Inspector Mason of New York was on the stand all day. He stated positively that the shortage occurred during a former administration and that the counterfeit melt was palmed off by them on this administration, but on cross-examination said he himself would not have accepted it as genuine, and that he could have detected the imposture. He is a slow witness and will probably be on the stand all day tomorrow.

Burglary and Arson.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

WHEATLAND, Nov. 14.—Burglars entered Blainfield's store in Sheridan last night after midnight, blew open the safe and then fired the building. The building was owned by the Odd Fellows. It was two stories high. The lodge-room was above the store. It is reported that the officers have a clue to the burglars. It is believed that chagrined at not securing money from the safe, the burglars committed arson. Blainfield's stock was partly insured.

Sheepherders Not Killed.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

RENO (Nev.), Nov. 14.—Sheriff Coughlin and P. L. Flanagan, who went to investigate the report of the killing of two French sheepherders, returned here this evening. They found there was no truth in the story, the sheepherders being perfectly well. Merrill, the man who confessed to committing the crime, was examined as to his sanity this afternoon and committed to an asylum. He is 35 years of age, and quite well educated.

Olivares Shoots Another Indian.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 14.—Francisco Olivares, an Indian, who was lately tried and acquitted on the charge of murdering a Portuguese named Antonio Dutra, shot another Indian named Juan yesterday. He was soon captured by a party of ranchers, but escaped, and is now at large, with deputy sheriffs on his trail. His victim will probably die.

Seymour Matthews Dead.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 14.—Gov. Matthews received word, Nov. 14, that he had been shot by a man named Seymour Matthews, who was lately tried and acquitted on the charge of murdering a Portuguese named Antonio Dutra, shot another Indian named Juan yesterday. He was soon captured by a party of ranchers, but escaped, and is now at large, with deputy sheriffs on his trail. His victim will probably die.

Going Back to Samoa.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The steamer Mariposa sailed for Honolulu, Auckland and Sydney this afternoon. Among the passengers who took passage for Samoa was Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, who returns to live permanently at her old home at Vailima. Mrs. Stevenson was accompanied by her son, Lloyd Osborne, and by Mrs. Isabel Strong.

SWITCH CHARGES.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

The Railroad Tax on Live Stock Taken into Chicago Courts. (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.) CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—A local paper says that the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission has petitioned the courts to enforce its order directing the Chicago and Alton Railroad to stop levying a switch charge of $2 per car on all live stock shipped to Chicago and delivered at the Union Stockyards. An authorized announcement to this effect has been made by W. S. Cantrell, chairman of the commission. He said the papers in the proposed proceedings against the Alton road had been prepared and would be filed in court within the next two days.

The probabilities are that the Alton is not the only road which will be proceeded against in the courts. As a matter of fact, Chairman Cantrell admitted that proceedings would be begun against all roads which had been guilty of making extortionate charges. All the roads entering Chicago, except probably the Rock Island, which is owned by the government, are being strangled by Judge Grosscup, have, it is said, been making an extra charge of $2 per car for all stock delivered at the yards.

The commission has made no order, except in the case of the Alton road, requiring the offending line to stop the extortion, but it has issued an order that such notice is unnecessary. All the offending roads can, in his opinion, be prosecuted under the statutes without the formality of a restraining order requiring them to cease their extortionate charges.

The order against the Alton road was issued on October 15. The complaint was filed by James Brown of Dwight, Ill., and it involved every point which could be raised in the controversy between the railroad companies and the shippers of live stock.

AN INSANE MERCHANT.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

Kills His Wife and Mother and Several Wayfarers. PARIS, Nov. 14.—(By Atlantic Cable.) M. Domergue, a wine merchant, suddenly became insane, and killed a number of people. He shot his wife and mother, then opened fire upon people in the street, killing three and wounding several others. The madman then barricaded himself in a house, and fired upon the gendarmes who surrounded the building.

Plot Against Alfaro's Life.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A special to the Herald from Panama says a plot to kill President Alfaro of Ecuador has been discovered, and the executioners' peril averted. The man who had been assigned the direct task of assassination by those engaged in the conspiracy, several Conservative and Liberal elements, has been already arrested by the government police. The prospective assassin was apprehended at Babahoyo. The Herald's correspondent in Quito also telegraphs that several prominent persons in the capital have been arrested, charged with a Conservative revolutionary conspiracy against Alfaro.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

HENRY CABOT LODGE INTERVIEWED IN LONDON.

He Says It Is a Policy that American Have Always Sustained and Always Will—English Editorial Comment.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Chronicle this morning publishes an interview with the Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, in which he expresses his views upon the subject of the Monroe doctrine. After going into the history of the doctrine in detail, Mr. Lodge said:

"Nobody in America ever pretended that the Monroe doctrine is a proposition of international law. It is a declaration of policy, and one which the people in America have always sustained, and, in my opinion, always will sustain, as of vital importance to the people of the United States."

"Its bearing upon the subject matter of the Venezuelan dispute is very simple. Each country is entitled to what its predecessor held, and no more, for no new rights have been acquired in the interval by either people. The question is, what was the true boundary between the Dutch and Spanish possessions? To refuse arbitration and to seize and hold by force disputed territory would open the door, if England pursued such a course, to any other European power that desired to acquire additional territory in Central or South America. It would infringe on the Monroe doctrine. The people of the United States cannot regard it otherwise than as a movement hostile to them."

The Monroe doctrine, he should be remembered, is quite distinct from any question of reparation for injuries received by the subjects of foreign powers at the hands of the governments or people of Central or South American republics. With such matters we have nothing to do, but cannot permit ourselves to cover of reparation or any other way, new territory to be acquired by any European power."

"Thus the Monroe doctrine has remained a mere statement, found only in the Monroe message, but it is believed that in the next Congress length to the statements made by the American opinion is practically unanimous as to the absolute necessity of upholding the doctrine for the welfare of the country. Moreover, I believe that England recognizes our attitude as reasonable and just."

William T. Stead, editor of the Review of Reviews, having seen the interview with Senator Lodge, replied to the statements made. England, he said, would never consent to any veto being placed on the freest possible expansion of the United States and settlements, and the colonization of the western world. He insisted that it would be absurd to submit the Venezuelan question to arbitration, especially with the example of the termination of the Alabama claims as an object lesson. In conclusion, he said he recognized the fact that Americans were quite in a frame of mind to invent new doctrines if they found the Monroe doctrine did not apply to Venezuela.

Editorially discussing the interview with Henry Cabot Lodge on the Monroe doctrine, the Chronicle this morning says: "Mr. Chamberlain's statement that the United States is not likely to attempt to play the role of Napoleon in Venezuela, until the United States has formed a protectorate over all of the South American republics. We are bound to protect our citizens, and we do not see how loose policies like those of the Monroe doctrine can stop us from protecting the lives and property of English people in the New World."

BILL AND DAUNTLESS.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

They Fought With Bare Knuckles at the Pavilion. Residents in the vicinity of Hazar's Pavilion were favored with a view of a fistic exhibition yesterday evening free of charge. Two husky youths, about 16 years of age, who had a difference, chanced to meet at the Pavilion City. One dared the other to direct the fight, and they went into the street to fight it out with bare knuckles. They stripped off their coats and went at it, hammer and tongs.

The slugging was terrific and had lasted 35 minutes by the watch, when one of the Cylindrical employees, who had constituted himself referee, declared the fight a draw, and with the aid of several spectators, parted the pugnaous youths. The battle was a close one, and was fought nearly the whole distance to Fourth street, on Olive. When parted, the combatants presented a ghastly appearance. Eyes were blackened and noses, lips and hands were bleeding.

While the fight was in progress a woman standing in the vicinity telephoned for a policeman. Officer Richardson responded, and got there just in time to see the participants in the battle washing the blood off their faces. No arrest was made. The names of the fighters could not be learned. They were known to the spectators only as "Dauntless" and "Bill."

Detective Goodman Assaulted by a Prisoner. Detective Goodman was "collared" yesterday by a man whom he was attempting to take to "collar." Goodman is small in stature and would not make a first-class anchorman for a tug-of-war team. His opponent was a strapping big fellow, who was in a fair way of getting away with the plucky detective when the burly Sgt. Jeffries came to the rescue. As the result of the fracas James K. Norman was booked at the police station for battery. He was released on depositing $25 cash bail.

Norman is a jeweler, who does business on San Fernando street. Yesterday he went into a Main-street pawnshop to sell some old gold, but seeing Detective Goodman there, he refused to show the gold to the pawnbroker, fearing the detective might seize it on suspicion of being stolen property. The detective insisted on seeing the stuff, but Norman demurred.

"The fellow has to take you to the station," said the officer.

"No, you won't," said the jeweler.

Norman took his box of gold and started down Main street. Goodman accompanied him as far as Second, where he tried to induce Norman to go with him to the station, but Norman resisted. The officer took hold of the obstreperous individual, but the latter grabbed the sleuth by the collar and was about to drag him off down the street. Goodman got his whistle into his mouth and began blowing it vigorously, just as Sgt. Jeffries was passing by on a street car. The sergeant jumped off, and taking the situation in at a glance, he seized Norman by the nape of the neck and landed him in the police station in a jiffy.

Goodman alleges that Norman struck him twice with his fist, so Norman is charged with battery instead of resisting an officer.

The offense, news of which under ordinary conditions would be guardedly discussed, has become the common talk of the city more directly than any other in years. The mothers of the city are aroused, particularly in the face of the fact that because the accused men are rich they will escape the penalty of the crime, even if the evidence should demand that they be punished.

Hundreds of women, active in forcing a quick and sweeping crusade against such offenses, will be in the Police Court tomorrow morning to show by their presence that they will tolerate no juggling in a matter of such vital interest to them and to their homes. There have been in the city few instances of such absolute depravity as that with which Lane, Myers and Ratz are accused. All of these men are rich, and all are old. Lane is a pitiable spectacle, decrepit, half-blind and deaf, miserably clad and ill-looking to the last degree.

Myers is a man of considerable means, and Ratz is a well-to-do merchant. The fear that the parents of the children, needing money and caring little how they obtained it, might be bribed to make a prosecution ineffective, has caused a storm among the women which may lead to a shaking-up of the city has never seen in years.

The women who are leading the movement for punishment and reform are appalled at the gravity of a situation they did not believe could exist in San Francisco. They have reason to suspect that Lane and his associates are not the only persons who have committed such crimes. They believe that there are others who are as bad as they, and they are determined to bring them to justice.

The Rev. E. R. Dille is one of the most earnest supporters of the women in the movement. He is the pastor of the Central Methodist Episcopal Church, in which the mass-meeting will be held on Sunday. He declared that he had no doubt as to the guilt of the accused men, and he believed that the women were right in their demand for a quick and effective prosecution.

Lynching was freely talked of among the residents of Telegraph Hill, and the State in Italy which places this safeguard on wines imported within its borders. The secretary of the association is now securing copies of the laws of this country and as soon as they arrive a bill will be prepared, based on the best provisions of both countries.

Andrea Sbarbaro, the representative of one of the large wine-growing districts, and a prominent member in the association, is the prime mover in the matter. "I had a long talk with Congressman Maguire," said Sbarbaro, "and he is fully in accord with the objects of the association. He has promised to introduce the bill, which will probably be made a part of the United States revenue laws. It is a matter that has been agitated for some time."

Brady Breaks Silence and Pleases the Prosecution's Attorney.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 14.—Attorney Hitchcock of Red River bluff consumed the entire day in arguing the Brady case for the people. Brady rode in a chair and heard himself denounced again and again by the attorney of John J. Bogard, the late sheriff of Yuba county. The constant swirling of the chair was the only perceptible sign of nervousness in this man whose life, all agree, hangs in the balance. Once, this morning, Brady got himself and made answer to a question being argued by Attorney Hitchcock. It was when Hitchcock called the attention of the jury to the evidence of J. J. Barrie touching on the time the witness called on the defendant in the County Jail.

"You will remember, gentlemen of the jury," said Hitchcock, "that when Barrie entered the jail the defendant said to him: 'Jim, you always treat me like a brother, didn't you?' It was then that Brady lost control of his self-possession and blurted out the interruption, 'I don't deny it.'"

This move on Brady's part seemed to please the attorney for the people. It was the first time the jurors had heard the prisoner's voice, and, evidently in hopes of getting more replies from Brady, Hitchcock pulled question after question to him and no doubt would have succeeded in his purpose had not Attorney Carlin and Forbes whispered to their client to hold his tongue. Attorney Forbes will occupy the rest of tomorrow.

The New General Manager Attacks the Southern Pacific's Payroll.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The Examiner says Julius Kruttschnitt, general manager of the Southern Pacific, is ambitious to make a record for economy. Since his appointment Kruttschnitt has been quietly but persistently examining the payroll to see where he could make discharges. He has an idea that the company has too many section hands or trackmen on the lines west of El Paso, so on the first of next month, some twenty-five or thirty of them will be discharged. The general manager also thinks there are a number of stations where two men are now employed that can get along with one. Discharges are also expected at the shops at Sacramento, Ogden and Tucson.

It is estimated that on December 1 next the names of fully one hundred employees will be stricken from the payroll of the Southern Pacific Company. No pruning can be done among the New Mexico and Arizona section men, because of a lot of track-repairs and improvements now in progress in those two territories.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The unspeakable crimes which have been committed upon children of this city, and of which Capt. Peter F. Lane and his associates are accused, have aroused the women of San Francisco to a pitch of indignation almost without parallel.

While the fathers and friends of the girls are threatening acts of summary vengeance, women and mothers in every part of the city are organizing to insure swift and uncorrupted prosecution of the accused men. The mothers are determined to make a general and effective crusade against vice, the alarming prevalence and disgusting horror of which has been revealed in the Receiving Hospital.

A dozen organized bodies of women are interested in the terrible affair. The churches have been appealed to and have promised to respond. The Civic Federation and its good offices have been enlisted. Meetings are being held, and the representatives of many societies will meet tomorrow at the headquarters of the W. C. T. shows that A. M. Lorenzo married her on October 23, 1894. The contract was acknowledged on December 14, 1894.

Both wives and their mothers were in court today and are on very friendly terms. The evidence introduced is considered very incriminating. The trial will last three days.

The Carson Mint Swindle.

CARSON (Nev.), Nov. 14.—The trial of James Heney is dragging along slowly. Inspector Mason of New York was on the stand all day. He stated positively that the offense occurred during a former administration and that the counterfeit melt was palmed off by them on this administration, but on cross-examination said he himself would not have accepted it as genuine, and that he could have detected the imposture. He was slow-witted, and would probably be on the stand all day tomorrow.

Burglary and Arson.

WHEATLAND, Nov. 14.—Burglars entered Blashfield's store in Sheridan last night after midnight, blew open the safe and then fired the building. The building was owned by the Odd Fellows. It was two stories high. The lodge-room was above the store. It is reported that the officers have a clue to the burglars. It is believed that, chagrined at not securing money from the safe, the burglars committed arson. Blashfield's stock was partly insured.

Sheepherders Not Killed.

RENO (Nev.), Nov. 14.—Sheriff Caughlin and P. L. Flanagan, who went to investigate the killing of two French sheepherders, returned here this evening. They found there was no truth in the story, the sheepherders being perfectly well. Merrill, the man who confessed to committing the crime, was examined as to his sanity this afternoon and committed to an asylum. He is 15 years of age, and quite well educated.

Olivares Shoots Another Indian.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 14.—Francisco Olivares, an Indian, who was lately tried and acquitted on the charge of murdering a Portuguese named Antonio Dutra, shot and killed an Indian near Oceanside yesterday. He was soon captured by a party of ranchers, but escaped, and is now at large, with deputy sheriffs on his trail. His victim will probably die.

Seymour Matthews Dead.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 14.—Gov. Matthews received word this evening that his only son, Seymour, who had charge of the government exhibit at Atlanta, was killed. The Governor left at once, and an hour after his departure the death of Seymour Matthews was announced. The deceased has been connected with the Smithsonian Institution for eighteen months.

Going Back to Samoa.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—The steamer Mariposa sailed for Honolulu, Auckland and Sydney this afternoon. Among the passengers who took passage for Samoa was Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson, who returns to her home at Vallima. Mrs. Stevenson was accompanied by her son, Lloyd Osborne, and by Mrs. Isabel Strong.

Fire at Wheatland.

WHEATLAND, Nov. 14.—Early this morning Jim Shaffer's residence and barn, about three miles north of Wheatland, were burned. The fire caught from a defective fuse. The loss was about $2500, partly insured.

SWITCH CHARGES.

The Railroad Tax on Live Stock Taken into Chicago Courts.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—A local paper says that the State Railroad and Warehouse Commission will petition the courts to enforce its order directing the Chicago and Alton Railroad to stop levying a switch charge of $2 per car on all live stock shipped to Chicago and delivered at the Union Stockyards.

An authorized announcement to this effect has been made by W. S. Cantrell, chairman of the commission. He said the papers in the proposed proceedings against the Alton road had been prepared and would be filed in court within the next two days.

The probabilities are that the Alton is not the only road which will be proceeded against in the courts. As a matter of fact, Chairman Cantrell admitted that proceedings would be begun against all roads which had been guilty of making extortionate charges. All the roads entering Chicago, except probably the Santa Fe, which was restrained by Judge Grosscup, have a switch charge of $2 per car for stock delivered at the yards.

The commission has made no order, except in the case of the Alton road, requiring the offending line to stop the charge. Chairman Cantrell says that such notice is unnecessary, as the offending roads can, in his opinion, be prosecuted under the statutes which make it a misdemeanor to make extortionate charges.

The order against the Alton road was issued to October 15. The complaint was filed by James Brown of Dwight, Ill., and it involved every point which could be raised in the controversy between the railroad companies and the shippers of live stock.

AN INSANE MERCHANT.

Kills His Wife and Mother and Several Wayfarers.

PARIS, Nov. 14.—(By Atlantic Cable.) M. Domergue, a wine merchant, suddenly became insane, and killed a number of people. He shot his wife and mother, then opened fire upon people in the street, killing three and wounding several others. The madman then barricaded himself in a house, and fired upon the gendarmes who surrounded the building.

Plot Against Alfaro's Life.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—A special to the Herald from Panama says a plot to kill President Alfaro of Ecuador has been discovered, and that several persons have been arrested. The plot was said to have been organized by the government police. The prospective assassin was apprehended at Babahoyo. The Herald's correspondent in Quito also telegraphs that several prominent persons in the capital have been arrested, charged with a Conservative revolutionary conspiracy against Alfaro.

A Tramp's Foot Crushed.

A tramp named B. Johnson had his foot crushed between car-bumpers in the San Fernando-street yards last night. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

HENRY CABOT LODGE INTERVIEWED IN LONDON.

He Says It Is a Policy that Americans Have Always Sustained and Always Will—English Editorial Comment.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Chronicle this morning publishes an interview with the Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, in which he expresses his views upon the subject of the Monroe doctrine. After going into the history of the doctrine in detail, Mr. Lodge said:

"Nobody in America ever pretended that the Monroe doctrine is a proposition of international law. It is a declaration of policy, and one which the people in America have always sustained, and, in my opinion, always will sustain, as of vital importance to the people of the United States."

"Its bearing upon the subject matter of the Venezuelan dispute is very simple. Each country is entitled to what its predecessor held, and no more, for no new rights have been acquired in the interval by either people. The question is, what was the true boundary between the Dutch and Spanish possessions? To refuse arbitration and to seize and hold by force disputed territory would open the doors, if England pursued such a course, to any other European power that desired to acquire additional territory in Central or South America. It would infringe on the Monroe doctrine. The people of the United States cannot regard it otherwise than as a movement hostile to them."

"The Monroe doctrine, it should be remembered, is quite distinct from any question of reparation for injuries received by the subjects of foreign powers at the hands of the governments of people of Central or South American republics. With such matters we have nothing to do, but as to the right of a new territory to be acquired by any European power."

"The far-reaching doctrine has remained a mere statement, found only in President Monroe's message, but it is believed that in the next Congress both houses will declare it to be an integral part of the policy of the United States, to be maintained at all hazards. American opinion is practically unanimous as to the absolute necessity of upholding the doctrine for the welfare of the country. Moreover, I believe that England recognizes our attitude as reasonable."

William T. Stead, editor of the Review of Reviews, having seen the interview with Senator Lodge, replied to the statements made. England, he said, would never consent to any veto being placed on the freest possible expansion of the American trade and settlements, and the colonization of the western world. He insisted that it would be absurd to submit the Venezuelan question to arbitration, especially with statements made, which would be quite in a frame of mind to invent new doctrines if they found the Monroe doctrine did not apply to Venezuela.

A new feature is soon to be introduced in the matter of responding to fire alarms. Not only will the fire department appear at the tap of the Hall bell, but the Los Angeles Railroad Company will have its representatives present to see to the removal of wounded persons.

The scheme has been planned by Chief Engineer Lincoln Nissley of the city's water company. At the company's power house will be a gong connected with the City Hall bell, so that every alarm of fire will be heard in the city.

A team with drop harness and with driver and three other men will be in readiness to go out at a moment's notice, and will be used almost exclusively for the purpose of responding to alarms. The wagon is to be built

THE SENATORIAL OUTLOOK.

Aside from the two new Senators from Utah, there will be no change in the United States Senate's membership, unless by death or resignation, until March 4, 1897. The Senators whose terms expire on that date are Pugh of Alabama, Jones of Arkansas, Perkins of California, Teller of Colorado, Platt of Connecticut, Call of Florida, Gordon of Georgia, Dubois of Idaho, Palmer of Illinois, Voorhees of Indiana, Allison of Iowa, Peffer of Kansas, Blackburn of Kentucky, Blanchard of Louisiana, Gibson of Maryland, Vest of Missouri, Jones of Nevada, Hill of New York, Hansbrough of North Dakota, Brice of Ohio, Mitchell of Oregon, Cameron of Pennsylvania, Ivey of South Carolina, Kyle of South Dakota, Morrill of Vermont, Squires of Washington, and Vilas of Wisconsin. The Chicago Inter Ocean summarizes the Senatorial outlook as follows:

"Only ten of the outgoing Senators are Republicans, and none of them are in any danger of being supplanted by Democrats or Populists. Three are Populists, and of these, two, Peffer and Kyle, are sure to be succeeded by Republicans, while the other, Jones of Nevada, will probably be his own successor, and it may be added, back again in the Republican party. Of the Democrats, the fate of Gibson and Brice is sealed. Both must surely be succeeded by Republicans. Blackburn may or may not pull through. Voorhees is likely to be dropped out, and Palmer and Hill are sure to be. The Legislatures of this State and of New York will be Republican on joint ballot in 1897 is practically as certain as that the Legislatures of Maryland and Ohio will be in 1896. The same is true, very nearly, of Wisconsin. Vilas can entertain no hope of a second term. Already there are more Republicans than Democrats in the Senate, so that there is no possible chance for the Senate of the Congress which will come in when Grover Cleveland goes out to be other than Republican by a good working majority."

"The State Senators elected in New York Tuesday will hold over and participate in the session of the United States Senate in 1897. This election was likely to Hill, and its results fatal to his candidacy. He may still retire from politics. He may still be the leader of his party in the Empire State, but it is not likely that he will come in when Grover Cleveland goes out to be other than Republican by a good working majority."

"The result in Kentucky is no longer in doubt on the State Legislature. The Republicans will have a majority on joint ballot of the two bodies. The retirement of Blackburn to private life at the same time that John G. Carlisle goes into obscurity, unless they are willing to come down to some humbler place, and even then they might be defeated. The Republicans have not fully fixed upon their candidate. There is no thought of taking Gov. Bradley out of the gubernatorial chair. He would not allow his name to be used. It is understood that his choice is Congressman Hunter, who as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee made such a splendid campaign. It looks now as if public sentiment would crystallize about Hunter. Whether it does or not, it is difficult to think that the State of Henry Clay, so long the especial champion of protection, is to be represented in the Senate once more, after an interval of about forty years, by thorough and consistent member of the party of the two great principles, protection and progress."

It is said that the riders of horseless carriages acquire a style of face that double discounts the "bicycle face" in its most exaggerated form. But even this fact, if it be a fact, will not stop the triumphal progress of the horseless carriage, which has evidently "come to stay."

The Tennessee Centennial Exposition, which is to open at Nashville on September 1, 1896, is to be another White City. The management has ordered all buildings to be constructed of white staff, and the designs to be either Colonial or Greek. The Fine Arts Building, which will stand in the center of the plan, will be a reproduction of the Parthenon.

Senator Vilas thinks that the results of the elections "show that the majority of the people are still voting on the recent panic and the results of it." Mr. Vilas's diagnosis is undoubtedly correct. He might have stated, further, that the people will vote on the same issue in 1896.

Advance sheets of the second volume of Senator Sherman's "Recollections" have been sent out, and the prospects are that this book will excite as widespread comment as the first volume. Mr. Sherman's blunt way of expressing himself is bound to stir up the brethren.

The statement from Washington to the effect that President Cleveland will favor a scheme for Hawaiian annexation, which is to be brought forward at the coming session of Congress, will require confirmation before it will be generally accepted as true.

Although 1895 is an "off-year" in New York politics, the vote polled at the late election aggregated 1,100,000, of which the Republican candidates received nearly 600,000. This isn't half bad for an "off-year."

"The Boyhood of Famous Humors" is the subject of Frank G. Carpenter's letter in next Sunday's Times. He tells all about the early struggles of Bill Nye, Mark Twain and James Whitcomb Riley.

Calvin J. Brice has some cause for celebrating Thanksgiving day. He plugged up the bung-hole of his barrel in time to save some of the contents, at least.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATRE.—No one who sat through last night's feast of fun and music at the Los Angeles Theatre will be in a hurry to add "Prince Ananias" to their repertoire the lucky Bostonians have picked another winner.

The score of the opera is by Victor Herbert, the present leader of Gilmore's band, the book by Frances Nelson. One seldom hears in modern-day operatic creations music that is less reminiscent or more rich in the quality that makes listening a delight. It may be conceded that the like creations—so "catchy" as in other like creations—their music is heard whistling snatches of them about town—by far that, it is replete with numbers that are vivid with melody and one who hears it will go out from the footlights glare full of that quiet sense of satisfaction which good music affords as does but few other things in all the world.

The librettist has packed his book with most excellent humor, and the clever play who liberate its lines so in a fashion that is best expressed as "making the most of it."

and prodded with red-hot pens, as a madman's pen would be. The two confidence men promise La Fontaine that unless he can break through the king's crust of gloom, a like, or worse fate, awaits him, and naturally Mr. Barnabee, La Fontaine, proceeds to suffer in the highest style of the art.

However, as in many another matter, all well that ends well; the king is made to laugh, his prime minister, Killjoy, (Harry Dale), who has been plotting to kill the king, is the fit of the blues is deposed and supplanted by La Fontaine; Biron is decorated and fitted out with an office under the civil service rules of Navarre; Grabbie is pardoned; Biron gets his Idaho; Ninette couples up with Eugene (Harold Blake), La Fontaine's assistant, and the curtain falls with a lately disgruntled monarch holding his sides from laughter.

WADE-BOGERT.

A BRILLIANT WEDDING AT SAN DIEGO LAST EVENING.

The daughter of General Manager Wade wedded to Dr. Bogert of the United States Navy—Los Angeles People Who Attended.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 14.—(Special Dispatch.) The wedding day of Miss Evangeline Wade, daughter of General Manager K. H. Wade of the Southern California Railroad, dawned clear and bright. It was a notable day in the annals of San Diego society. One of the most charming women of the Silver Gate was wedded to a young, handsome officer of the navy, Dr. Edward Strong Bogert, Jr., a young man of promise in his important profession as a medical naval officer. The many friends who arrived on a special train from Los Angeles this afternoon, and friends from elsewhere, gathered to do honor to the young couple with feelings of respect and affection. The bride was to the consummation of a true love match between hearts young, buoyant, hopeful and so happily situated as to their prospects is concerned, as to be a matter for genuine cordial congratulation. Seldom do young people begin their married life in Southern California. It was a full dress military wedding. The officers were resplendent in blue and gold. At the appointed hour a full-vested choir of fourteen of San Diego's fairest young women emerged from the vestry-room, and took places on either side of the chancel. Upon the entrance of Miss Wade leaning on the arm of her father the wedding procession wended its way toward the chancel, the choir leading and singing the hymn, "The Voice that Breathes O'er Eden," followed by soloists, Lawrence Spear, T. F. Ruhn, P. J. Decker, all of the navy and full uniform. Following the ushers came the bridesmaids, Miss Teresa Rosington of Topeka, Kan., and Miss Alice Holliday of Alamo, Ill., and the maid of honor, Miss Adine Manvel of Chicago, who preceded Miss Wade and her father. Dr. Bogert, with his best man, Dr. George T. Smith, the pastor of the church, Miss Wade accompanied by the maid of honor, Miss Manvel, and by Dr. Smith, advanced to the altar. The Rev. H. B. Resterick, the professional, the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" being performed by Organist Waldo F. Chase in a masterly manner. After the betrothal service the nuptial knot was tied. During the ceremony musical selections were rendered from Lohengrin, and the party left the church Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" rang out with a volume and fine touch that made many a heart beat faster. The wedding party drove at once to the bride's home at Coronado, where a brilliant reception was held from 9 until 11 o'clock. The bride's wedding dress was severely plain, of ivory white satin, received from her father, and was of the latest fashion. The bride's hair was styled in a simple and becoming manner. The bride's veil was of fine lace, high neck and long sleeves, with a veil and natural orange blossoms. Miss Wade carried a prayer book and a few white violets. The bridesmaids were attired in white silk mull over white silk in Marie Antoinette style. They carried large bouquets of La France roses tied with pink satin ribbons and wore white veils. The maid of honor wore a gown like that of a bridesmaid, but carried a large bunch of white roses.

The Wade mansion at Coronado was a veritable floral bower. The bride and groom received the many guests in the reception room, which was actively decorated with streamers of smilax. The music-room and library were liberally banked and adorned with pink and white carnations. Throughout the spacious hallways chrysanthemums and palms made charming pictures. From the dining-room chandelier fell five pink ribbons which were joined gracefully to the table beneath banks of pink roses marking the place where the ribbons fell. The church decorations under the supervision of Miss Kate O. Sessions, assisted by Mrs. Mills, consisted of pink chrysanthemums along the chancel rail, relieved by white stelia. Tree palms were on either side of the altar, and the walls about the altar were covered with bamboo. Palms and ferns screened the organ. From a chandelier before the altar festoons of smilax formed a canopy for the bridal party.

Among the Coronado guests at the wedding and reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nordhoff, Miss Nordhoff, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Babcock, Col. S. M. Horton, U. S. A., and Mrs. Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dabney, Capt. and Mrs. C. T. Hinde, Miss Ingle, Mrs. J. C. Healy, the Misses Healy, Dr. Frank Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. George Hannan, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Toles, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Nutt, Lieut. Amos H. Martin, U. S. A., and Lieut. Charles L. Bent, U. S. A., Miss Pauline Watts, Capt. H. B. Trippett, Wheeler J. Bailey, H. B. Spencer, F. S. Plimpton, Lyman Parke of Detroit, Bernard McKenzie, Mrs. Alex Reynolds, Mrs. Elyse Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White, the Misses Toles, Mr. and Mrs. Baker, T. Baker, Miss Baker.

The Los Angeles party, which arrived in General Manager Wade's private car at 4:45 p.m., consisted of the following: Ex-Gov. H. H. Markham and wife, Col. Dan. Freeman, Col. H. L. P. Hansen and wife, James J. Hill and wife, M. W. Stimson, Maj. George

It was fear of losing his wife, more than anything else that brought him to terms," said Mrs. Mooney, reflectively, in talking of the reconciliation. "That was good generalship on her part. I don't think I could have left him here alone to have it out with me. She knew that would bring him to his senses."

"You appear to be somewhat of a general yourself, Mrs. Mooney," suggested the reporter.

"Well, I flatter myself that I am. I can hold my own, at least, with the British nobility when it comes to a tug-of-war."

In regard to the statement in an evening paper that Mrs. Mooney said that Miss Cunningham, a San Francisco reporter who figured in the Durand case, told her that Durand confessed murdering Blanche Lamont during one of the interviews Miss Cunningham had with him, Mrs. Mooney yesterday evening denied that she said that Durand had confessed, but repeated that Durand did ask Miss Cunningham to advise him whether he should plead guilty and throw himself on the mercy of the court. No importance is attached to the statement of Miss Cunningham or Mrs. Mooney. It is probably done for the purpose of creating notoriety, like nearly all the other talk in connection with the Mooney-Douglas farce comedy.

It is intimated that His Lordship and the Mooney content will make use of the free advertising secured through their amusing escapades by organizing a barn-storming company of their own.

MRS. MOONEY'S MISSION.

HER TRIP TO LOS ANGELES WAS A SUCCESS.

She Came, She Saw, She Conquered. Stars and Stripes Wave Over the British Lion—Complete Reconciliation Effected.

She came, she saw, she conquered. Mother-in-law Mooney has met the enemy and he is hers.

"The Stars and Stripes wave triumphantly over the British lion," said that phantasmagoric woman yesterday evening on her departure for San Francisco, after having met and vanquished the doughty Lord Sholto Douglas and humbled him to the dust.

"My mission here has been entirely successful and satisfactory," said Mrs. Mooney, as the train pulled out of the Arcade depot, with Mrs. Mooney and a Times reporter aboard. "I came here to establish my rights and the rights of my family, and have succeeded. Lord Sholto has acknowledged that his wife's family is as good as his, and he has apologized for his conduct toward me and promised to let his wife write to her mother as often as she likes, without hindrance from him. Furthermore, he has paid back that little loan that one of my daughters favored him with, and has promised to make a public apology for his foolish conduct, through the newspapers of San Francisco and Los Angeles. I did not ask him to do so, but inasmuch as he volunteered it, I will see that he does it. I will publish the apology for him."

"Sholto and I have effected a complete reconciliation and I do not anticipate any further trouble with my son-in-law. As an earnest of his good faith, he directed Lady Douglas to give me some money to buy presents for the children at home. He specified the amount to bestow on each child. This will please my boys and heighten their regard for their brother-in-law. His Lordship is not such a bad fellow after all. I think he will forgo his bit with us. He is not shiftless, as many people supposed. He gets a very comfortable allowance from home, and I always look out for a chance to get him in vestments, by buying mortgages and other securities. He is ambitious to get rich, but the poor fellow is in bad health and I am afraid he will not live long."

"No, my daughter will not live up to the stage; she is, in fact, just beginning her theatrical career. Her two elder sisters are actresses of considerable merit. Loretta has talent, but she has not yet had an opportunity to develop it. I am sorry that I was the means of breaking off her engagement with the Frawley Company, but Mr. Frawley gave me to understand that he will take her back. However, she is not dependent upon Mr. Frawley. There are others. Offers are pouring in on all the time. She can do better than that."

engaging with the Frawley Company. Lord and Lady Douglas will remain in Los Angeles temporarily until their plans for the future are matured."

Mrs. Mooney was evidently wound up to talk to the reporter all night, but she was not going to San Francisco, so at River Station, he bade her good-bye and left her to entertain the other passengers in the car, who were interested listeners to the interview. Mrs. Mooney's an account of her conversation with Lord Sholto and his mother-in-law will not find the journey to San Francisco tedious.

Lord and Lady Douglas escorted Mrs. Mooney to the Arcade Depot in a hack. His Lordship might have provided a Pullman berth for his respected mother-in-law, but he didn't. He deposited her and her packages in an ordinary day coach. Lady Douglas kissed her mother affectionately good-bye, but His Lordship omitted the customary ceremony. He simply shook the old lady cordially by the hand and wished her a pleasant journey.

Lady Douglas was at Santa Monica Wednesday, when her mother could not find her. She was not sent there by her husband, but went on her own account, leaving the field unobstructed, so His Lordship and his mother-in-law could fight it out. They fit, and His Lord-

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

With Florida furnishing only 100,000 boxes of oranges this season, the Southern California orange-grower ought to be strictly "in it," and be one of the mainstays of the Eastern orange market during the coming winter.

At Redlands navel oranges of this season's raising are now in the market, which is said to be about two weeks earlier than the first that appeared last year. According to this, Christmas ought to find plenty of the golden fruit on sale.

At a recent meeting of the Town Trustees at Orange an ordinance was passed providing for the funds necessary to put in a system of waterworks to be owned and operated by the municipality. Forward, March! is the order at Orange, and we are glad to see it.

San Diego's brewery seems to be assured. The railway people are building a switch to the site of the brewery. Contracts have been let for the building. A bottle factory will be a part of the brewery outfit. With $40,000 of beer annually, Silver Gates needn't go thirsty, even though they are unable to settle the city water question.

A well ninety feet deep, near Pacific Beach, in San Diego county, contains so much petroleum that animals will not drink water taken from it. A spring by the roadside at Morena, not far from Pacific Beach, is highly impregnated with oil. These are considered as favorable signs of the existence of large bodies of oil almost within the city limits of San Diego.

A patriot, tried and true, died at Santa Monica Wednesday night. Col. Thomas Searle Dunn, one of a famous Indiana family, many years a resident of this county, joined the great majority, at the age of 72 years, leaving a worthy record of patriotic services. He was a veteran of two wars, and won the brevets of major and lieutenant-colonel for gallant services on the field of the battle of the Wilderness.

There has been a goodly sale of the season reserved seats for the entertainment course of the Young Men's Christian Association. The low price at which these attractions are offered should insure a large attendance. The list as outlined in the amusement columns is of uniformly good material and the effort to bring them to the Coast worthy of support.

Mental photography will be demonstrated by Prof. Tyndall at New Los Angeles Theater next week. Novers of mystery will have an opportunity of witnessing the marvelous powers of the occult science by Prof. Tyndall. A mere glance at Tyndall convinces the observer that he is a person of exceptional organization, mental and physical. His "Supernatural in Nature," which he proposes presenting here, is full of occult science and psychic influence, and fills the beholder with astonishment and interest from beginning to end. There is a peculiar fascination about Tyndall's work that makes people feel they are in the presence of some unknown power.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

A delightful thimble party was given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. F. M. Strong, at her charming home on Alvarado street. She was assisted by a quartette of pretty girls, the Misses Fairchild and the Misses Strong. A string orchestra, stationed in the reception hall, and hidden by a tall Japanese screen, palms and vines, discoursed fascinating music during the afternoon. A bowl of delicious punch was placed in a corner of the hall, and the refreshments were especially tempting. The prize for the daintiest piece of fancy work, an embroidered centerpiece, was won by Mrs. Wharton, and that for the most useful, a workbox, was won by Mrs. Chandler. Each guest was presented with a souvenir, an emery, in the form of a small fruit. The drawing-rooms were effectively decorated with clusters of white chrysanthemums, and trails of smilax, which were woven in the grill work between the rooms. In the dining-room yellow chrysanthemums were used with charming effect; ropes of smilax swung from the chandelier to the corner of the table. Those present were: Mrs. Wedemeyer, Wharton, French, Z. D. Mathews, M. L. Moore, Charles E. Kregelo, Chandler, Eggleston, John E. Howland, Villalobos, Bannin, Mattice, Thompson, Chawin, George M. Dan-skin, Felix C. Howe, J. M. C. Mar-bie, H. Jones, G. Wiley Wells, James B. Davies, James A. Montgomery, Charles N. Flint, N. Blake Blackstone, J. H. P. Peck, Samuel S. Salisbury, S. P. Shatto, Charles H. Fairchild, Whitman, Babcock, Fox, Fairchild, Coleman, E. P. Bryan, H. M. Sale and Albert W. Briggs.

A DINNER.
Mr. and Mrs. Wedemeyer gave a delightful dinner Wednesday evening at their home on Alvarado street. The table was prettily decorated with pink carnations, arranged in a large bowl in the center. A cluster of the same flowers, tied with pink satin ribbon, was placed at each lady's place, and a single blossom at the gentlemen's. The guests were: Dr. and Mrs. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. M. Strong, the Misses Strong, Dr. and Mrs. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Griffith.

A LUNCHEON.
Miss Genevieve Smith entertained charmingly yesterday, at her home, corner of Figueroa and Pico streets, in honor of Miss Ryland. There were covers for nine, and the table was artistically decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, arranged in a quaint old blue and gold teapot in the center. Ropes of smilax were festooned from the chandelier to the corners of the table, and each place was a blue and gold card in the shape of an artist's palette, tied with yellow ribbon. A yellow chrysanthemum was fastened in the thumb-hole. The rooms were decorated with fan-palms and chrysanthemums. After the luncheon the guests were entertained by a fortune-teller, and their photographs were taken. Those present were, the Misses Ryland, Boles, Roberts, Briggs, Daniels, Libby, Miss Schomberg, Denver, and Miss Sarah Smith, of St. Louis.

PICNIC DINNER.
Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Rayder gave a pleasant picnic dinner, followed by cards, last evening, at their home on Daly street, in honor of Mrs. Rayder's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Buss of Chicago. The table was prettily decorated with trails of smilax, and masses of purple violets strewn down the center. The lamp in the center, and the candles at either end were softly shaded with apricot-colored crepe shades. The parlors were pretty with rose and smilax. The ladies' first prize at which was a handsome vase, and the gentlemen's, a '95 diary. The consolation prizes were small bottles of perfume. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Volkmann, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Winans, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Owen, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Locke, and Miss Edith Locke.

A RECEPTION.
A most enjoyable reception was held yesterday afternoon by Co. B of the Y.W.C.A., at the residence of Mrs. E. A. Forrester, on West Seventh street. The reception was assisted in receiving by Miss Lizette Oliver and Miss Jessie Bates. The house was prettily decorated with masses of chrysanthemums, and the refreshments were presided over by Mrs. S. E. Sweet, Miss Christie and Miss Della Bates. The programme was exceedingly interesting. Mrs. Mathews gave an address, explaining the aims of the Y.W.C.A., and the ladies sang, Mrs. H. N. Wales recited, Miss Bates read a few remarks, explaining the object of the company, and Miss Reeder gave an informal talk on what joining the association and the company meant. The Venetian Ladies' Orchestra rendered delightful music at intervals during the afternoon. Among those present were: Misses C. D. Howry, J. W. Gillette, Whitman, Pratt, C. A. Palmale, Denio, Wier, Warner, W. C. Patterson, Wiley, Reynolds, Whittier, George Smith, G. F. Boyard, Hewitt, Brill, Maynard, Wannop, Crow, Misses Davis, Misses Cook, Ellis, Douglas, Clare T. Morse, Reeder, Mercereau, Mmes. Corn-dunning, S. J. Oliver, Seymour, O. H. Churchill, Mathews and many others.

CHURCH FAIR.
The ladies of the Epiphany Church, East Los Angeles, held a very successful bazaar yesterday afternoon, and evening in Odd Fellows' Hall, Downey avenue. The hall presented a very attractive appearance, with its artistic booths and booths of pretty girls. The domestic booth, decorated with palms and grevilleas, and filled with quantities of pretty embroideries and fancy articles, was presided over by Mmes. Sanford, Liveridge and Fillmore. The altar chapter booth, where most toothsome candies, delicious lemonade and pretty things were bought, was presided over by Miss Trew, assisted by the Misses Whittaker, the Misses McCormack, Miss Cook and Miss Phillips. This booth was draped with red bunting, and gaily decorated with red holly berries.

The paper booth was pretty, with all sorts of articles made of crepe and tissue paper, and the bright colors were set off by the masses of pepper boughs, palms and clematis with which the booth was trimmed. Mrs. Brett, assisted by the Misses Richardson, Miss Dockstadter and Miss Carrick, was in charge of this booth.

In the refreshment department, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Cook had charge of the ice-cream and cake, and Mrs. Lacy and Mrs. Toney of the coffee and tamales. They were assisted by the Misses McConnell, Isabel Lacy, Besale Carrick, Winfield and Mrs. Fleming. Mrs. Browning, Miss Scott and Miss Cole were in charge of a candy table, which received a large share of attention. In the evening some pleasant music was furnished by the Story family.

BASKET SOCIAL.
Angel City Lodge No. 49, Degree of Honor, Ancient Order of United Workmen, gave its regular open meeting last Monday evening, in the form of a basket social, at Caledonia Hall. There was a very large attendance, and the Workmen lodges of the city and Pasadena being represented, besides many persons outside of the order. The baskets were auctioned off by W. M. Rogers, and the proceeds netted the lodge a handsome sum. The highest prize for the basket bringing the best price was won by Mrs. John Kearney. To Mrs. Emma Lane, chief of honor of the lodge, and the committees of

AN AGED TRAVELER.
Supervisor Field's Father's Safe Arrival in Los Angeles.

The aged father of Supervisor E. S. Field arrived here from the East a few days ago, and expects to spend his remaining days with his son. The old gentleman had the misfortune to fall off the train near Hamilton, Ont., and the conductor refused to stop to pick him up, although appealed to do so by Prof. Alexander Frye of Boston, who was a passenger. Prof. Frye got off at the next station, and returned on a freight train to the place where the accident happened. He found Mr. Field, who was only slightly hurt. Prof. Frye then accompanied the old gentleman all the way to Los Angeles, where he arrived safe and sound, apparently none the worse for his unpleasant experience.

Mr. Field is nearly 84 years old and quite vigorous, both in mind and body, for a man of his age. He bids fair to survive a number of years yet in this climate. This is not Mr. Field's first visit to Los Angeles. He was here about nine years ago.

Supervisor Field is very glad to have his venerable father with him, and feels grateful toward Prof. Frye for looking after the old gentleman on his long journey. Prof. Frye was formerly Superintendent of Schools at San Bernardino. He is at present visiting his parents at Highland.

THE NEED OF REVISING THE CITY ORDINANCES.

Special Committee on Public Market Recommendations that new bids be advertised for.

Park Commission Receives Proposals for Boat and Bathhouse to be Placed at Echo Park.

F. W. Cherry Gives Bonds—A Pasadena Man Committed for Insanity—Complaints Against Biscailuz—Gonzales on Trial.

The Park Commission yesterday received a proposition for an elaborate boat and bathhouse at Echo Park. The special committee on public markets decided to recommend that new bids be advertised for the lease of ground. Members of the City Council visited the place where it is proposed to dispose of dead animals.

Yesterday was comparatively a quiet day at the Courthouse. F. W. Cherry, the stenographer indicted by the grand jury, succeeded in obtaining bail, and was allowed to go free. Harary was convicted of simple assault, and Mark McGary was on trial before Judge York for pocket-picking. Jesus Gonzales was in trial in Department One for assault with a deadly weapon. A Pasadena man was sent to Highlands for religious mania.

AT THE CITY HALL.

THE PARK COMMISSION.

Proposition for a Bath-house at Echo Park.

The Park Commission met yesterday morning with Commissioners Post, Todd and Workman present and Commissioner Cross in the chair.

The secretary was instructed to communicate with the City Council, informing that body that the commission is in favor of adopting for the proposed boulevard from Elysian Park to Westlake Park the route for which land had been offered by P. M. Scott. The commission has approved the construction of a bathhouse for Echo Park was instructed to have the work progressed as rapidly as practicable.

The attention of the City Council was called to the bandstand at Westlake Park, and it was urged that the bandstand be asked to complete the work as soon as possible, where left undone by the contractor.

A committee consisting of Commissioner Workman and the Superintendent was appointed to procure plans for a foot-bridge across the Hollenbeck Park lake, and present the same to the board.

A communication was presented from W. B. Carter in which he solicited the approval of the board to an application by him to the City Council for a sole privilege for the use of Echo Park for the purpose of keeping a boating and bathing resort.

It granted the privilege he proposed to have constructed a floating bath for the use of women, children and amateurs in swimming, together with a building on shore for dressing. He proposed also to have a trapeze and high diving frame in the lake. He also desired to erect a pagoda for the sale of refreshments. As soon as the city would erect a suitable bathhouse he would supply the requisite number of rowing and sailing boats.

He would pay the city 10 per cent. of the gross receipts for the privilege, and at any time he would on reasonable notice sell out at actual cost.

The proposition was referred to the members of the board as committee of the whole to confer with the City Council in reference to the matter. It was decided to ask the City Council to meet with the board for that purpose next Wednesday morning.

Adjourned.

THE SEWER COMMITTEE.

Recommendations that were adopted at yesterday's meeting.

The Sewer Committee met yesterday morning and adopted the following recommendations for presentation at the next meeting of the City Council:

"We recommend that the petition from E. M. Huckins, asking permission to make connection with the sewer at his property on the corner of Third street and Hewitt and Stevenson avenues, be granted, and the Street Superintendent instructed to issue the necessary permit."

"We recommend that the bid of J. P. Mansfield to sewer First and Hope streets at 98 cents per lineal foot for the sewer, complete be accepted, and the necessary resolution of award adopted."

"We recommend that the bid of S. J. Edwards to sewer Eleventh street at $1.15 per lineal foot for the sewer, complete be accepted and the necessary resolution of award adopted."

THE CITY ORDINANCES.

Urgent Need that They be Revised and Indexed.

Attention has frequently been called to the necessity of having the city ordinances properly revised. In the cases of prosecutions under these ordinances a great deal of annoyance is experienced and in fact city officials are greatly handicapped by reason of the fact that it often happens that it is almost impossible to ascertain whether or not there is an ordinance bearing on any particular subject.

Practically it is out of the question to have any ordinance against any particular thing, when one is in doubt about it, unless by chance he happens to find an ordinance bearing on the subject.

The police department is subjected to a great deal of annoyance because of the fact that sometimes it cannot be ascertained whether a person can be arrested for performing any particular objectionable act. The police judges also have a good deal of trouble over it.

To make a proper revision of the ordinances would require a great deal of work. It would probably be thought best to eliminate those ordering street work. Should this be done, the penal ordinances would have to be carefully compared, to see what whole ordinances and parts of ordinances have been repealed.

The doing of all this work and the preparation of a complete index, it is estimated, would be worth about $1500, exclusive of printing.

Public Market Proposals.

The special committee to which was referred the bids received for the leasing to the city of ground for a public market has agreed to report recommending that the bids received be rejected, and that the City Clerk be instructed to advertise for new proposals.

Fire-alarm Numbers Changed.

In order to avoid liability of making mistakes in fire-alarm, the numbers of three of the fire-alarm boxes have been changed. The changes are as follows: No. 151, West Second and Ohio streets, changed to No. 158; No. 171, East Fourth and Carolina streets, changed to No. 175; No. 181, West Washington and Estrella streets, changed to No. 182. It will be noticed that each of the three old numbers has three figures, and that the first and third figure in each case is 1. The figure 1 appearing twice in a number is liable to cause confusion, so that the numbers may not be rightly understood.

Fire-department Roster.

A printed roll of members of the fire department has just been issued. It contains the names of each member of the department, the time he was appointed, in what capacity or capacities he has served and in what company he is at present serving. It is in effect an official record of the service performed in the department by each member.

Disposing of Dead Animals.

Three or four of the members of the City Council rode out yesterday to where William Peterson, the bidder for disposing of dead animals, proposes to dispose of them. The place is a mile or more east of the city limits and nearly a mile north of the Mission road. The fat is to be rendered and the bones are to be converted into super-phosphate. A report on the question of accepting Mr. Peterson's bid will probably be made to the Council Monday.

The New City Jail.

The contract for the construction of the new City Jail, which contract was approved by the City Council last Monday, will probably be before the City Council for approval today. John Rebm, the contractor, said yesterday that if the contract be approved he expected to commence work under the contract by the first of next week.

City Hall Notes.

The Board of Public Works will meet this morning. Michael Levy has petitioned for a change of grade on the south side of Orange street from Kip street for a distance of 100 feet southerly.

Dr. Joseph Kurts and others have petitioned that the grade of the east side of Buena Vista street be changed from point 160 feet north of Temple street to a point 100 feet north of Rock street, making the grade two feet lower at Rock street than at present.

W. L. Leveying has filed a protest against the acceptance of the grading and cement work on Twelfth street between Westlake and Burlington avenues. The cement work, he complains, is badly cracked and broken, and the work never has been satisfactory to the City Engineer.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

THE COURTS.

Frank W. Cherry Appears With His Bondsman.

Frank W. Cherry, the Police Court stenographer, accused by the grand jury of having falsified his claims against the county, appeared yesterday before Judge Smith, with Messrs. Ramish, White and Marsh, who had agreed to give the $2000 required by the bond, reduced to $500 on each count. A. B. Campbell, Esq., will act as counsel for Cherry, who seems to be in no way disturbed by the indictments found against him by the secret investigation.

Cherry claims that the fault lies with the typewriter who transcribed his reports, and that he will be easily able to clear himself when the case comes to trial.

The indictments against Cherry are four in number, and accuse him of perjury, in having sworn that his claim for the transcripts of testimony in the cases of Wong Chuey, Wong Wing, Richard Woodward, J. Bidwell Errington and E. G. Tolman were true and correct, whereas it was proved by experts that he had claimed payment far more than the work actually done.

Cherry will be arraigned before Judge Smith on Monday at 10 a.m.

A Fakir's Victim.

The "Patmosophia of Anthropocentric Involunt" is well to the front now, and "Dr." Reed, the distinguished exponent of the doctrine, has a victim in the person of Otto Brandt, a Pasadena upholsterer, who believes firmly in the principles inculcated by Reed, that every man is God, and that Reed himself is at the head of the universe.

This belief has been unfortunate for Brandt, as his mind has become so unbalanced under the influence of Reed's teachings that he has twice attempted suicide, and shows every symptom of melancholy madness.

Brandt was examined yesterday before Judge Shaw, and although he answered rationally enough the questions addressed to him, it was plain that Reed's influence over him had made him a monomaniac. He strongly resented his arrest, claiming the freedom of an American citizen, and a trial if he had done anything wrong. He even succeeded in breaking away from the men who held him, and ran as if for life, giving the officers a lively chase to recapture him.

After a careful examination the physicians agreed that it was unsafe for him to be at large, and Judge Shaw accordingly committed him to Highlands.

Biscailuz Again in Trouble.

M. V. Biscailuz, the defaulting attorney, has evidently failed to profit by past experience with the wrong side of the law, for he is in trouble again, charged with swindling four Frenchmen under the pretense of obtaining employment for them.

The four men, Jean Laerre, Frank Laulier, Martin Jollet and Henry Lalette, had come over to this country in search of employment. Biscailuz met them and promised to get them work on a ranch at San Fernando. On the strength of the favor he had shown them, the wily attorney managed to collect about $13 from the crowd.

The promised work proved to be a delusion and a snare, and Biscailuz disappeared from the ken of the swindled Bernais. They sought comfort in the District Attorney's office, and four complaints against the slippery lawyer were issued by Deputy District Attorney Willis.

Gonzales on Trial.

Jesus Gonzales was on trial yesterday before Judge Smith, charged with carrying out Vicente Monillo. The two men were herders at Verdugo, and, being heavily loaded with sheep-herder's delight, they quarreled over cards, the stabbing being the result.

Fond of Picking Pockets.

A lively scene occurred yesterday afternoon in Department Three, when, after a soul-shaking oration from Attorney Bowen upon the stainless innocence of his client, Mrs. Mary L. McGary, Asst. District Atty. Williams rose and coldly requested that the subject of Mr. Bowen's eulogy be handed over to the custody of the Sheriff, as he did not think a $500 bond was sufficient to hold her. A small cyclone of recriminations followed, but Judge York stilled the storm by the peremptory order that Mrs. McGary should remain in custody until the conclusion of the trial.

Mrs. McGary is accused of having picked the pocket of Mrs. L. Johnson, abstracting therefrom a purse containing $2 current coin of the realm. This would not be so bad, but, unfortunately for Mrs. McGary, she seems to have had a fondness for acquiring property in this manner, having once pleaded guilty to going through the pockets of Mrs. E. Sherdum, and gaining $11 by the operation. Mrs. McGary's trial lasted through the greater part of the day, and will be finished this morning. Dr. Williams thinks the jury will convict her in fifteen minutes. Bowen thinks she will be cleared without a dissenting voice. Mrs. McGary looks as though she thought a great deal about her thoughts were not soothing, and what the jury thinks will be divulged today.

New Suits.

Court Notes.

The case of Morgan vs. Preston was finished yesterday and submitted to Judge Shaw on briefs.

The motion to discharge Braby, the man indicted for arson, was yesterday denied by Judge Smith, pending the action of the District Attorney's office, concerning the indictment.

The plea of Frank E. Lowry, indicted for embezzlement, was again continued to November 25.

Gertrude Thompson, who gave her real name as Gertrude Groener, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Smith on the charge of divorce from Ella C. Nuss, on the ground of desertion.

Two suits for replevin were being tried at one time yesterday by Judge Clark. Two men, named Garmlee and Russell, were suing Poundmaster O'Lavery for a couple of impounded horses alleged to have been sold without proper notice.

John Harary was yesterday convicted of simple assault upon little Pauline Brown.

Judge York yesterday admitted to citizenship James Burham, a native of England.

A verdict for the plaintiff was rendered in the case of R. M. Farías vs. Alonzo Farías, on trial in Judge York's court.

The ball of P. S. McAneny, the slayer of William P. Hunter, was yesterday reduced to $5000 upon the introduction of evidence which showed the crime to have been manslaughter.

DEATH BY MORPHINE.

Inquest in the Case of a Suicide Yesterday.

Miss Amelia Harriett Campbell was found in her room at No. 412 East Seventh street, yesterday morning, in such a condition from the effect of taking morphine that all efforts to save her life were unavailing. Two bottles, which had contained the drug, but which were nearly empty, together with a note found in her room, made it apparent she had committed suicide.

The coroner held an inquest in the case last evening. It was developed that she had attempted suicide by taking morphine about two months ago, but Dr. Still, who was called at that time, was able to save her from the effects of the drug. She was of a sensitive disposition, and this fact led to the belief that she allowed herself to brood over joking remarks applied to her.

She had been employed at the Anchor Laundry for about two years. She came from Nevada several years ago. Wrapped about one of the morphine bottles was a note which said:

"If this drug has the desired effect, please have my body cremated."

"MAMIE."

The deceased, it was shown, had not, to any great extent, kept company with any young men, and no other facts other than her sensitive nature were elicited to make any other reason apparent for her rash act.

The verdict of the jury was that she came to her death by morphine administered by her own hand, with suicidal intent.

The friends of the dead girl say that the report that she was mentally unbalanced is incorrect. She was a member of the English Lutheran Church. She leaves a little brother and one sister, Mrs. James E. Morgan of No. 640 Wall street.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY

RIVAL ADMINISTRATORS FOR JUDGE ANSON BRUNSON'S ESTATE.

Desert Mine Deals Reported to Court Decision Against the Ex-Sheriff. To be Tried for Stealing Rich Ore—Personal Notes.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 14.—(Regular Correspondence.) Public Administrator John Taylor was placed in charge of the estate of the late Judge Anson Brunson, Judge Otis decided against the position of M. F. Doland, and the names signed were "M. F. Doland," and Beckwith testified that the handwriting was Doland's.

The prosecution is being conducted by Asst. Dist. Atty. L. M. Sprecher, and Paris & Allison represent Doland. Doland was held to answer, and his bond fixed at $500.

SAN BERNARDINO BREVITIES. The work on St. John's Episcopal Church is progressing, but the building will not be in shape to hold services next Sunday morning. Accordingly the members of Co. E have kindly granted the use of the Army for that occasion.

It is understood that Rev. Mr. Brown will at that time consider "Some Popular Objections to the Episcopal Church." The Sunday-school Guild of St. John's Episcopal Church gives a musical social tomorrow evening in the store room occupied by the St. John's hotel, formerly occupied by the Popular Shoe Store.

FIRE AT NEEDLES. NEEDLES, Nov. 14.—Fire originated in the rear of a shoe shop at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, which completely destroyed the shop and contents, a residence, a grocery and two vacant store rooms belonging to Messrs. Lingo and Thompson, respectively. Total loss about $5000. Cause of fire unknown. A heavy wind was blowing, and for a time the residence portion of the town was in danger. Prompt action by the volunteer fire department soon brought the fire under control.

REDFLANDS. REDFLEANS, Nov. 14.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Sunnyside Water Company held its annual meeting Wednesday afternoon, being reported by 277 shares. The Committee of Management for last year was elected to serve during the coming year, as follows:

The main properties in question are in the immediate vicinity of the Desert Queen, and H. B. Adelt is the superintendent of the property, under the agreement which was recently made by the various owners. Meyers is one of the parties who claim an interest in the Desert Queen mine, and is suing to establish his title.

DECIDED AGAINST THE EX-SHERIFF. Senator E. C. Seymour, or his bondsman, will have to pounce on the man who was Judge Otis's decision this morning. During Seymour's term as Sheriff a suit was begun by H. Well against H. Hartman, and on December 13, 1892, the Sheriff attached about forty head of cattle near Victor, as the property of the defendant.

According to the complaint, on the day following the levying of the attachment, Mary Hartman fled with the Sheriff an affidavit to the effect that the cattle were her personal and separate property, and were not in her husband's possession. The cattle were sold at Sheriff's sale, and were never returned to Mary Hartman, nor was she reimbursed in any way for the value of the cattle, which was placed at $800.

It is thought that the bondsman will have to do the paying. HIGHLAND MOTOR AND HARLEM SPRINGS. The statements published in yesterday's correspondence in relation to the sale of Harlem Springs have been practical confirmation today. O. H. Kohl, late cashier of the First National Bank, admits the purchase of Harlem Springs by his father, F. Kohl, of Centralia, Ill., but refused to affirm the statement that he had also purchased the San Bernardino, Arrowhead and Waterman Railroad, from the springs, and from there on to Highland.

The First National Bank is a judgment creditor of the road, and the matter of the sale was referred to a committee. The committee reported yesterday afternoon that he had confirmed the sale. Receiver Brodick was seen, but declined to affirm or deny, but suggested the idea that it was impossible to do any business here without the newspapers getting onto it. H. Connor, attorney for the Springs, was interviewed, and stated that he had been notified that the Comptroller's consent to the proposed sale had been received. He did not know to whom the sale was to be made. It is undoubtedly a part of Harlem Springs enterprise, however.

FOR STEALING RICH ORE. The preliminary examination of M. F. Doland on the charge of stealing rich ore from one of the Calico mines is on in Justice Soule's court.

Doland has been employed in the Red Cloud mine, and from time to time small quantities of rich ore have been missing, and the result of an investigation led to a complaint being sworn out against Doland by M. Beckwith, assistant superintendent for the company.

The complaint specified that $368 worth of ore had been stolen. It is alleged to have been sent to Selby & Co., of San Francisco, and that the returns received by Doland.

Charles Mack, the foreman in the Red Cloud mine, testified that very frequently, just after a blast had been fired, there were evidences that pieces of rich ore had been removed from the floor of the level in which the blasting was done. This could be seen by the marks of a pick in the dust, and by the fresh ore which had been raked up after the dust settled.

W. R. McFadden, foreman in the mill, testified that he knew Doland was an employee, but knew nothing concerning the case against him. Alfred Goldthwaite, the proprietor of a Los Angeles hotel, testified that Doland came to his hotel, bringing a trunk along, and in the trunk he had a sack of ore which might weigh from 100 to 200 pounds. The ore was prepared for shipment in his house, and Doland sent it to Selby & Co.

Assistant Superintendent Beckwith was called to identify Doland's signature to a letter to Selby & Co., and also the signature to the receipt for the money which was returned to the smelter. The names signed were "M. F. Doland," and Beckwith testified that the handwriting was Doland's.

The prosecution is being conducted by Asst. Dist. Atty. L. M. Sprecher, and Paris & Allison represent Doland. Doland was held to answer, and his bond fixed at $500.

ORANGE COUNTY.

SANTA ANA RESIDENT ATTACKED BY A WILD HOG.

A Case of Tit for Tat—Marriage of Fullerton Residents—Water Gravel Business—Orange News Notes and Personal.

SANTA ANA, Nov. 14.—(Regular Correspondence.) Ex-Sheriff Superintendent C. R. Ward of this city had a thrilling experience yesterday (Wednesday) while out on the Carpenter place, near the artificial lake on West Fifth street.

Mr. Ward suddenly came upon a huge wild hog, which had been running in the willows for a number of years, and, consequently, was wild and savage. The gentleman had two good dogs with him, and they at once tackled the brute. The dogs were soon whipped and sent howling into the willows, terribly lacerated by the hog's big tusks.

Then Mr. Ward took a shot at the animal, and immediately it charged upon him. One of the dogs, seeing the hog after Mr. Ward, sprang at him, and savagely, just as it was overtaking the fleeing hunter. The brute's attention was diverted, and he then made a charge at the dog, which he did not get far, however, until another shot from Mr. Ward's rifle found a resting place between his eyes, when he tumbled over and expired.

Mr. Ward went home, got his wagon, and returned to where the battle had taken place, loaded his game in and drove back. The hog tipped the beam at 325 pounds, when dressed. His tusks were over two inches long.

TIT FOR TAT. It seems to be a case of tit for tat with a couple of Santa Ana's most respected citizens who reside on West Hickey street. Yesterday (Wednesday) A. H. Holcomb had A. J. Towner arrested for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk. There is an ordinance against riding wheels on the sidewalks, and Mr. Towner was fined $2 for the offense when he was taken before City Recorder tomorrow (Friday) to answer to the charge preferred against him.

DES GRANGES-WILLARD. John C. Des Granges, a prominent rancher, who resides near Fullerton, and Mrs. Hestia Willard of Santa Ana, were recently married Wednesday evening in this city at the residence of Mrs. G. O. Ott, on North Main street. The Rev. Jewell of the Main-street Methodist church, officiating.

The ceremony was performed a few minutes past 8 o'clock, and a very few invited friends, after which congratulations were given. Mr. and Mrs. Des Granges were with their friends for a short while, when they left on the north-bound Santa Ana train for Fullerton, where she was met by Mr. Des Granges and driven to her new home.

WATER ORDINANCE PASSED. At the recent meeting of the Trustees of the Little city of Orange, the ordinance providing for the voting of bonds with which to put in a new city water system, to cost $10,000, or perhaps a little more, was passed, after a second time and passed, after a little discussion, by the unanimous vote of the board.

This progressive step will be appreciated by the enterprising residents of the little city. Orange already has the prettiest little plaza in the county, and now it proposes to have a system of waterworks, which will be a great benefit to the city, and a much larger population than it has.

GRIZZLIES IN TRABUCA. One of the Haven boys came down from his home in Trabuca canyon, east of the city, about twenty miles, Wednesday, and tells of a thrilling adventure two of his neighbors, Ed. Adkinson and W. A. Jones, had with two monstrous grizzly bears. The young hunters, who were armed with rifles, and that they fired a number of shots at the roamers of the hills and dunes, but without apparent effect.

Word to the Times branch office today that a party was being organized at Joplin's ranch to go in pursuit of the big gray fellows.

ORANGE COUNTY BREVITIES. Through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce of Santa Ana, arrangements have been made so that, hereafter a light will be left burning in the postoffice after nightfall until 9 o'clock. The postoffice department does not provide for this expense, and it will be borne by private individuals. The Santa Ana postoffice will be an additional gain for the city, and necessary for the light and Postmaster Peabody will stand the expense of the gas consumed.

Yumahville, a promising two-year-old filly, arrived in Santa Ana Wednesday, to winter. The filly is the get of Challa, the Oregon pacing wonder, who is also in Santa Ana, and is a promising horseman as they expect great things from her next season. C. W. Shanger of Los Angeles, who is in the city, is a large family, and was a favorite spot for the best of Pacific Coast trotters and pacers.

The big pile-driver owned by the county has been sent over to the Olive bridge, where it will be used in making much-needed repairs for the next few weeks. At recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the city of Anaheim Treasurer Cahen reported over $5000 on hand to the credit of the city. This is a very good showing.

(Orange News.) About a dozen tramps have taken up their quarters at the railway bridge over Santiago Creek and are becoming quite bold in their demands on those who pass by. In the neighborhood. Boys returning from school have been compelled by them to turn their pockets inside out to show that they had no money.

County Clerk Brock, Elmer Mason and E. L. Chisholm, of Santa Ana, have returned from a successful hunting trip up the Trabuca Canyon.

Rev. J. W. Utter, formerly of the city, is now stationed at Artesia, where he has accepted a call from the Christian Church at that place.

Mrs. E. E. Edwards, of Los Angeles, and daughter, Mrs. Chase, of Omaha, Neb., are in Santa Ana visiting Mrs. Paul Segar and other friends.

Bert Stevenson of West Orange has been kicked in the face by a vicious horse. His face was badly gashed.

Mrs. J. M. J. Bee has returned from Santa Ana from a visit of several months with friends in the Eastern States.

Albert Pryor and Miss Nathalie Leons, both of San Juan Capistrano, were married Wednesday at the quaint old mission town. Father Joseph J. Sheffy officiating. After the wedding ceremony a feast was enjoyed. Mr. Pryor is a nephew of Don Marco Forster.

The Baptist Church at Orange has selected the following delegates to go to Pasadena to attend the Southern California Baptist convention, which convenes this week: Mr. and Mrs. Binney, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Ansley and Mrs. Hibberd.

The Sunset Telephone Company has been granted a franchise in Anaheim for a pole and wire line, and the establishment of an exchange. The franchise was put up for sale and sold to the Sunset company for $75.

B. C. Turner and mother of Santa Ana have gone to Trabuca Canyon for a ten-day's outing.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY. Bank Commissioners in Charge of Savings Bank—A Suicide. SAN DIEGO, Nov. 14.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Bank Commissioners have taken possession of the Savings Bank of San Diego County, formerly connected with the defunct Consolidated National Bank. Monroe Johnson, former cashier of the bank, is the temporary agent. A petition for judicial sale of the bank will be presented to the Superior Court soon.

Miss Lu Younklin, public librarian, was married to Dr. H. G. Anderson, at her sister's home in Denver, on November 8. News of the marriage created considerable surprise among hundreds of the bride's friends in this city. Miss Younklin was taking her annual vacation, and her return to this city was expected daily. It is thought that she will send in her resignation, and that the office will be filled by Miss Mary E. Walker, assistant librarian.

A. S. Tenney of Boston died at Alpine on Monday. Walter Eisenmeier and Miss Zarah Davis were married at National City today.

The promoters of the San Diego Brewing Company have let a contract for $60,000 worth of buildings to be built in this city. Machinery has been contracted for and orders have been given for running a switch from the main track of the Southern California Railroad. Wharney's wharf has been leased for five years. The company will make its own bottles. A factory will be established to run the plant, and the output of the brewery will be 30,000 barrels annually, with arrangements for an increased output of 50,000 barrels additional.

The Florence Heights C. O. gave the top hop of the season at the Hotel Florence on Wednesday evening. Judge Torrance has given a judgment of $42,000 in favor of the Savings Bank of San Diego County against Thomas J. Daley, and a decree has issued for the sale of 5800 acres of the San Vicente ranch.

Harvey Colman was killed by the cars at Ogilby Station, on the desert, on Tuesday. Ernest Struble and Miss Daisy Longmire were married Wednesday by the Rev. George N. Deyo.

The steamship Corona, which plays between this port and San Francisco, has been at the Union Iron Works there for three months, receiving new boilers. Lawrence Spear, U.S.N., and Dr. C. J. Decker, U.S.N., are at the Hotel de Coronado.

Commodore Slater's yacht Eleanor has gone to Ensenada, Lower California. The ship Westgate is discharging 15,000 barrels of cement at the Santa Fe wharf.

JUMPED OFF THE PIER. Mrs. B. B. Harris of South Bend, Ind., who has been here since last July to be near her son, Norman E. Harris, a student in the Los Angeles Medical College, is believed to have committed suicide last Sunday night by leaping into the ocean from the pier at Coronado. She was last seen Sunday afternoon in this city, and Monday morning her parasol, bonnet, pocketbook and a small box which had contained morphine pills were found at the pier at Coronado. Her son expected her to go to Los Angeles Sunday night, but on her failure to come he answered his telegram of inquiry, he came down last night. In her valise at her boarding-house he found a letter addressed to her, and a traveling salesman, C. O. Umbus, O., in which she said she would jump from the pier. She believed she was becoming crazy from worry over her son's health, which had been the reason for coming to the Coast. Her financial condition was also given as a reason for her act. There was no doubt a large family, she was 37 years old. Search is being made along the coast for the body.

SANTA MONICA. Death of Col. Thomas S. Dunn—Town and Wharf. SANTA MONICA, Nov. 14.—(Regular Correspondence.) Col. Thomas S. Dunn died at his residence on Fourth street in this place last evening of apoplexy. An operation a few days before proved unavailing to prolong his life. Col. Dunn was a familiar figure in Santa Monica, where he has resided for the past sixteen years. He was a retired army officer, with a long and honorable military record, and lived comfortably here on a retired officer's pay, in a pretty cottage with his two daughters. He was born in Hanover, Ind., in September, 1822, and was a member of the prominent family. He was educated at Hanover College, Williamson McKee Dunn, a brother, was for years a member of Congress from the old Indian district, and later served as Judge-Advocate-General of the army. Two other brothers, James and Samuel, were in the consular service at different times. Col. Dunn himself served first as a private in the Mexican war. When the rebellion broke out he raised a company, which became a part of the Ninth Indiana Infantry. He became captain April 24, 1861, and was honorably mustered out July of the same year. While time he was made captain in the Twelfth United States Infantry, afterwards transferred to the Twenty-first, and brevetted major and lieutenant for gallant and meritorious service in the battle of the Wilderness. In February, 1873, still remaining in the regular army, he was promoted to the rank of major of the Eighth Infantry, and afterwards transferred to the Twelfth. He was stationed at several points in Oregon, Wyoming, Arizona, including Tucson and Ft. Yuma, and was retired June 29, 1878. From thereafter he resided in this place. His wife was a daughter of Gen. John Tipton, a very prominent Indianan, and one time United States Senator. Mrs. Dunn died here about eight years ago. There survive Col. Dunn one married daughter, Mrs. E. M. Dunn, of Kansas; two daughters, Jennie and Neenah M., who live here, and one son, John T., a regular among the troops stationed at the Presidio, San Francisco. The funeral will occur from the house at 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY.

CHANNEL CITY STILL IN THE THROES OF REFORM.

Liquor Men Will Struggle to Resist Payment of Fines—Marshall Hopkins's Clever Detective Work. Forged Checks Passed—Brevities.

SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 14.—(Regular Correspondence.) Santa Barbara is still in the throes of reform. Each day adds some one to the list that has broken the laws of this bailiwick. Today F. Bosso appeared in the Police Court to answer to the charge of selling liquor on Sunday. He pleaded not guilty. The liquor men argued on Wednesday have asked further time in which to answer to the charge of selling liquor on Sunday. It was the general impression that the liquor dealers will make a hard fight before submitting to the payment of a fine. Mrs. John Bartels, who was arrested on Monday for keeping rooms for purposes of prostitution, was arrested today on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday.

GOOD DETECTIVE WORK. Marshall Hopkins has succeeded in recovering a watch that was stolen two years ago. The Marshall traced the watch all over the country. At one time it was in Indian Territory, and eventually came back to Santa Barbara. A short time ago the Marshall spotted the man in whose favor the watch was stolen. He let him understand through a third party that it was known that he had the watch, and that to save trouble he should better surrender it. Today the Marshall received through the mail a small box. At first he thought that it might be an informal machine, sent him by some of the demimonde, who had suspected him of being the instigator of the crusade against them, and he hesitated about opening it. However, he opened the box, and to his surprise, it contained the long-lost watch. Not a line accompanied the article. Marshall Hopkins is proud of the detective work that he has done in this case, and is justly so.

FORGED CHECKS. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of one John Doe for having passed forged checks. John Doe is thought to be Tom McQuade, who is now in the County Jail. McQuade introduced James M. Barry as the man in whose favor the checks were drawn. Barry is still at large. He was dressed as a workman and in company with McQuade bought a new suit of clothes. McQuade gave a check for $25.00 on the E. Barnard Ventura, saying he had been threshing beans and just got paid off. He was given back the correct change and the check was taken. Another check signed R. W. Jessup was passed at the Racket Store. When the checks reached the bank for deposit it was discovered that both were forged. McQuade was arrested, but says he does not know Barry, and never saw him before. He was drunk at the time and could not identify him now.

BREVITIES. The Telephone Company of Santa Barbara is now engaged in improving its system. Men are here from Los Angeles for the purpose of putting in a new switch-board.

The following persons are registered at the New Morris: George O. Rich, William Tubman, Los Angeles; Peter Hammond, Santa Ynez.

Mrs. N. M. Shanks has departed for Farmer City, Ill., via the Santa Fe.

Don Tarleton of Indianola, Iowa, is at the Mascara.

POMONA. POMONA, Nov. 14.—(Regular Correspondence.) The entertainment given by the Knights of Pythias in Odd Fellows' Hall Wednesday evening was enjoyed by a large audience of the friends of the order. The opening address was delivered by Ed. J. Fleming, and the musical and literary programme executed by Miss Carrie B. Eggleston, Miss Marie B. Loud, the Misses Madeline and Jeanne Means, Messrs. Titus Gosper, Loucks and the Mandolin Club.

After this portion of the evening's exercises had been enjoyed, beautiful refreshments were served, and the dancing ruled the hour until time to go home.

Arthur Macdonald Dole is authority for the statement that there will be a match football game between the Pomona College boys and the San Bernardino team, at the grounds of the former, on next Saturday afternoon. A week later the Redlands team will come down and try their hands on the Pomona College team.

A chess party of about seventy people has been formed here by Marshall Lorbeer, who will hear the Bostonians Friday evening, returning by special train after the performance.

The Home Players' Club are preparing to present "The Player" here on the evening of November 27.

Dr. T. H. Ward, a native of Ohio and an old G.A.R. member, died here at his residence on Pomona Heights this morning. The funeral will be held from the Congregational Church at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, under the auspices of Vicksburg Post No. 2.

The mother and sister of S. M. Haskell, of the Progress, are expected to arrive in Pomona from Zanesville, Ohio, tomorrow, and will make him and Mrs. Haskell a visit. Later on they will go to Portland, Ore.

Managed a Dispensary. It was reported to the Health Officer yesterday that a man named R. Owens was making a practice of operating in a barber shop mornings, and acting as manager of a Spanish dispensary afternoons. The report is understood to have been made by J. E. Gross, a private detective. The matter will probably be investigated.

A Boy Missing. George Parks, Jr., a fourteen-year-old son of George Parks of No. 202 Boyd street, has been missing from home since Saturday. He was seen on the street selling newspapers later that day, but his parents have not heard from him since. He has a scar under the chin, and wore a light coat and vest with dark pants. It is thought he may have gone to Santa Ana.
